Impact_

A large number of participants is expected. This event is seen as a high-value opportunity by attendees, most of them experienced HPC infrastructure users and administrators, and has a high impact on the HPC community.

The slides are published on HPCKP, and the talks are recorded and uploaded to YouTube. HPC-specialized press often mention the event or the talks once the material is uploaded (HPCWire, The Next Platform, Data-nami, InsideHPC, The Register).

Target Audience_

Most of the attendees are not only contributing to, but also leading the HPC world. This is a very unique event at which people can join a vibrant HPC community and interact with key developers and architects of bleeding-edge technologies.
